03 SECTION

The problem

Brokers live on commission, and wait months for it

01 No loan facility against the commission they are owed

02 No salary: they live from one commission to the next

03 Less motivation to sell more while earlier commissions are unpaid

Brokerages cannot plan around late, uncertain payments

01 Cash flow gaps limit campaigns and marketing

02 Late payments put their best brokers at risk of leaving

03 Revenue and growth numbers are unpredictable

Late payments cost developers reputation and sales

01 Paying brokers late, under cash flow pressure, damages their reputation

02 Slow payments slow the sales cycle, as brokers lose motivation

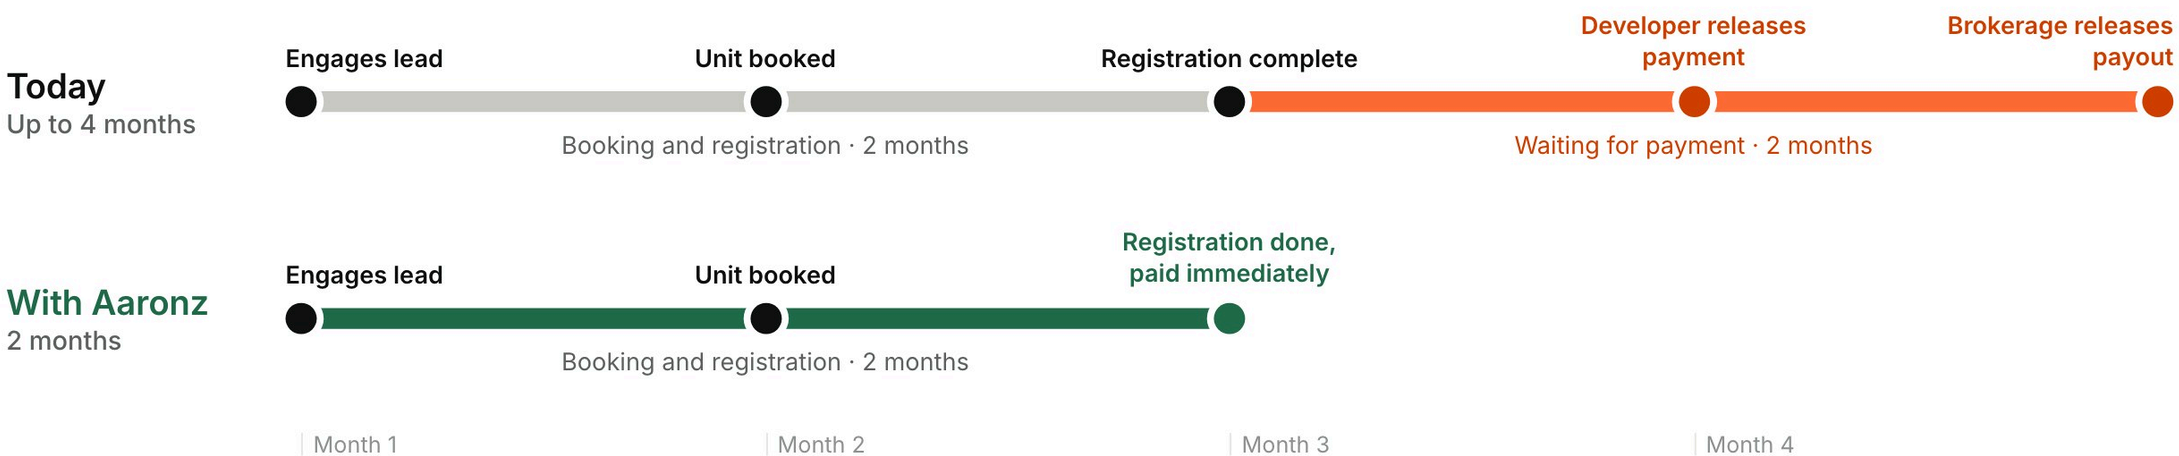

03 Invoicing is manual, with no digital view of who is owed what, and when

04 SECTION

The solution

Aaronz fills the market gap

Time until the broker is paid.

Aaronz pays the brokerage through a finance partner, and the developer repays the partner.

The outcome

05 THE OUTCOME

Brokers, brokerages and developers all benefit

Broker
